

Hiring of Post-Doctoral Fellow

A local startup founded by technology veterans, is looking for curious minds to join their foray into practical and yet exciting development of areas in artificial intelligence and big data analysis. The company is conveniently located in the Central District and offer a highly collegial and exciting environment. As long as you hold a PhD degree and have a curious mind, regardless of your graduate disciplines, they are interested in talking to you.

Interested students please send resume to echui22@outlook.com.